A CARD

The time has come when those who intend to enter school for the ensuing five months must decide what school they will attend. Therefore it will not be amiss to me, as principal of the M. & F. High School, to make a few brief statements about it. For the past half century the M. & F. High School has been the center of education for the Green and Cumberland river country. Within its walls our fathers and mothers were educated and there many of us, the younger generation, have received that instruction which fits us for the duties and responsibilities of life. Although it has done much for the cause of education in the past, yet we enter upon this 47th year of its existence, hoping even greater usefulness.

The enrollment now is larger than it has been for a decade past. Those in attendance are there for one purpose—advancement. The enrollment after the holidays for the term beginning January 5, promises to be the largest in the history of the institution. A corps of teacher will be in charge who will spare no pains to advance those who are in attendance.

We invite all who desire to prepare for college, or who desire to teach, or whosoever a higher education, to enter at once.

Give us an opportunity to help you.
TYLER A. BAKER.

HOW TO SUCCEED.

Gen. Taylor, editor of the Boston Globe, in a lecture how to succeed, hit the nail on the head when he said:

"Wherever you may be placed,"
"always do a little more than is expected of you. There is not much hope for the fellow who keeps his eye on the clock and starts in to wash and comb up fifteen minutes before it becomes his time to leave. Don't be afraid to do a little extra work."

"The man you are working for may not have seen enough to appreciate it, but some one else will. Do not believe that success in life is due to luck.
That's a silly man's thought. I believe that in life are men who have succeeded in life are men who have worked hard and conscientiously. The world has no rewards for lazy men."

THE DELINEATOR.

To do justice to this number, which for beauty and utility touches the highest mark, it would be necessary to print the entire list of contents. It is sufficient to state that in it the best Modern writers and artists are represented. The book contains over 250 pages, with 34 full-page illustrations, of which 20 are in two or more colors.
The magnitude of this number is apparent, for which 128 tons of paper and six tons of ink have been used, may be understood from the fact that it pressing running 14 hours a day, have been required to print it; the binding alone of the edition of 915,000 copies representing over 20,000,000 sections which had to be gathered individually by human hands. This number of the Delineator is a daily. Address the Delineator New York, N. Y.

To spend $12.00 annually for new paper advertising in a town of only 5,000 population seems beyond belief, no doubt, but nevertheless C. P. Cecil a Danville grocerman, expends that amount. He has added so much to his business that it is now necessary for him to employ 10 clerks. He will establish a big branch house at Perryville the first of January.

CHRISTMAS GOODS AT LOW PRICES!!

We have just returned from the markets, and every department in our house is full up with new and desirable goods at correct prices. We never before had as large a stock of goods for the Holiday trade as this season. The mild weather has retarded the sale of Winter goods, our stock is too large you know that means reduced prices to move them. Get in early and secure the best, haven't time to specify all the "Good Things," in this Ad. They are going and going fast.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For State Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce H. H. HENNING, Wayne county, a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

It is now said that Judge T. Z. Morrow, of Somerset, will be appointed Pension Agent for Kentucky.

The hour for holding the Prohibition convention will be at 1 p. m. at the court-house the first Monday in December.

Judge Guffy has declined to become Governor of Kentucky and will make the race to represent Butler and Edmonson counties in the Legislature.

Capt. W. H. Sweeney is an independent candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in the Lebanon district. That is all—he is just a candidate. The most important people will elect will be a Democrat.

Commissioner of Indian Affairs states that the United States has spent $845,275,200 in fighting, subduing and controlling the Indians from the foundation of the Government up to 1890. $240,000,000 has been expended in educating the children.

Boyd County Democrat, published at Catlettsburg and edited by E. L. Wright, made its first appearance last week. It is a bright, new sheet and we gladly place it upon our exchange list. The Democrat is destined to do much good for Democracy in the Big Sandy section.

Yesterday the State Democratic Executive Committee met in Frankfort for the purpose of fixing the date and manner for nominating State officers. We hope and trust that a primary election was not named. If a primary is called several candidates already announced will withdraw from the contest, the expense being greater than they can afford.

W. Godfrey Hunter, Jr., son of the American Minister to Guatemala, shot and killed Wm. Fitzgerald, a native of Grand Rapids, Michigan, in Guatemala City, last Friday, J. G. Bailey, a Kentuckian, and who was the Republican candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals against Shastel-ford, was with Hunter when the shot, four in number, were fired, and is also implicated. It is believed that Fitzgerald was connected with the charges, made several months ago, against Dr. W. G. Hunter. After the shooting Hunter and Bailey took refuge with the American legation and great excitement prevailed. W. Godfrey Hunter, Jr., is a native of Burksville, this State, and is a nephew of W. F. Horace K. and Chas. Alexander. It is believed here that he will be returned to America.

EDUCATION.

Education is the process of training, developing, changing from one state to another in such a way as to make stronger the mind, better the heart and more powerful the physical powers.

It has been defined by eminent authors as "the systematic development and cultivation of the mind and other natural powers."

The most common definition and the one most generally understood is that education is the process of acquiring knowledge; that the party who takes a course of study is educating himself. Passing the definition, we wish to briefly speak of the importance of an education, as is generally understood, to be knowledge acquired through a course of study. To those who are highly educated and to those who have acquired a business education the importance and worth of a thorough or collegiate course is apparent, but to the man who has contented himself to go through life without any special training in educational lines it is doubtless different. Reviewing the history of our country we are forcibly impressed with the great possibilities, the broad field of operation for those who educate themselves and the narrow channel through which the majority of the unlearned are forced to pass. Nearly all of our statesmen from Washington to the present were men well educated in their day and generation. The few exceptions are not sufficient to justify any one in defending a cramped or exceedingly limited education for, in every generation, some so strongly endowed by nature may override every obstacle and go to the front in nearly every line of business or nearly every profession without any special school training, but while this is true each and every one has sorely regretted that his powers were so hedged from the lack of an education that it took almost superhuman power to lead to the results to be accomplished. To-day the worth of an education is more manifest than at any other period of our history. Positions are secured and held only by competent and aggressive people. Education brings competency so far as it goes, but without it the base of operation is exceedingly limited regardless of the will power and natural endowments of the uneducated party. No young man knows what his opportunities will be a year hence, no young lady can look into the future and unravel its mysteries. Positions of honor and trust come alike to both sexes, responsibilities likewise hover over the lives of both. The people of to-day who are stamping their impress on the world, who mould public opinion, who stand on the scene of every profession are those who have gone through a course of training preparatory for great usefulness. The unlearned of every profession has an unenviable position and if success crown his efforts it must be the result of great natural apt or ability, which, with a thorough education, would have made his attainments much easier and his possibilities much greater. Young man, young lady, mark well the step of progress. Look at the great possibilities within your reach by first making yourself equal to the emergency. Parents, educate your children, broaden their opportunities for usefulness to themselves and to mankind. Every profession, every occupation is made better in proportion to the amount of the development of the mind. Give your children a good education and you leave them the richest legacy within your power, one that no person can take, one that will never diminish, one that only succumbs to one enemy and that is the total loss of the mind. The worth of educating is an inexhaustible subject. True education carries the mental, moral and physical powers to their best state, blesses the individual and the world.

The poet's true picture of many bright minds, powerful intellects buried in obscurity, lost to the world for the lack of an opportunity, proper training in early life, just such as the schools of to-day afford are given in the following lines:

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene,
The dark unfathomed caves of ocean
bear;
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

The Spectator changed hands last week, Mr. S. F. White selling the plant, good will, etc., to Mr. W. D. Jones, who will continue the publication of the paper. Mr. Jones has heretofore owned the Spectator, and his fondness for newspaper work, is doubtless his reason for again engaging in the business. It is our understanding that Mr. White will remain with the paper a short time, and will then engage in other business.

Mr. Cannon is to be the next Speaker of the House of Representatives. But he will not rise to the presidency if he adheres to the high-tariff and protection-to-the-trusts policy.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 17.

Capt. W. W. Bradshaw,
Columbia, Ky.

DEAR BRO.:—In response to your inquiry concerning rate of tuition and grade of the school to be located at Columbia, permit me to say that the Educational Board has not yet arranged the curriculum and agreed upon prices for the different departments, but will do so in due time.

It is the purpose of the Board to have a comprehensive course, suitable to the needs of the community at large, extending through primary, intermediate, and advanced or training school departments, which will embrace a four year course in Latin, three years in Greek and correspondingly high courses in Mathematics, English, Sciences, etc. Also a "Teachers' Course" for training the public school teachers, and equipping those who wish to prepare for teaching. We hope also that we may be able to add other departments later.

The rate of tuition will be made as low as can be made to maintain the school—so as to be within the reach of all who desire the benefit. Yours Sincerely,

ROBT. W. BROWDER.

President of Educational Board,
Louisville Conference.

CAMPBELLVILLE.

The frivolous game of Ping Pong has been introduced in our town, and is now supposed to be the proper thing among the elite. It is dying out in metropolitan society.

Mr. John H. Chandler, wife and infant, first born, have been for a number of days visiting relatives and friends here. They left for Louisville, where they reside, on the 24th inst. Mr. Chandler and his partner, Mr. Norman, have built up a lucrative law practice in the city.

Most of our citizens, if not all of them, favor the early construction of the proposed electric road between this point and Columbia. On the whole, it will prove to be beneficial to the citizens of both counties. Not only this, but both counties need a visit from the good roads Commission, and extensive improvement in roads generally. Near our town there are two or more farms that will be damaged by the electric road passing through them, as surveyed. The owners under the circumstances are not unreasonable in asking reasonable damages.

STUITS & TUTT.

FOSTER-FORD.

We clip the following extract from the Franklin Favorite:

The parlor had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, and seemed a bower of fragrant roses. The ceremony was performed by Dr. E. N. Dicken in his usual graceful and impressive style.

The attendants were Miss Lizzie Gabard and Mr. O. V. Wanstall, and only the intimate relatives of the couple were asked to the marriage.

Miss Ford is recognized as one of the handsomest young women in Southern Kentucky, and is a descendant of a family noted for its beautiful, graceful women. She possesses a charming personality, a grace of manner, a wit and brilliancy in conversation, and a power to assimilate and assimilate that amounts to genius. She is an eloquent of rare ability, which talent she has often used in entertainments for charitable purposes.

Dr. Foster was for two years a student in Southern School of Osteopathy and is one of the most successful practitioners that ever graduated from that institution. He is an elegant and courteous gentleman, and numbers his friends only by his acquaintances.

THE FAVORITE extends congratulations and wishes the young couple much happiness.

A. C. Burton to Perilla A. Harmon.

It is now time for the various churches in Columbia to look about and see what can be done for poor children living in the boundaries of their denominations. Christmas will be here in a few weeks, and it would be Christian acts to hunt up children whose parents are not able to buy presents, and see that the little ones are remembered. Can you imagine the feelings of a little five-year old girl on Christmas morning, seeing other children with candy, toys, etc., and she without anything? It will take but a small amount of money to buy a few little girl and boy in the vicinity of Columbia. Let us do the Christian act.

Our old friend, Mr. A. C. Loy, who lives near Greenboro, has been married last week. He was in Columbia Monday, called at this office and renewed his subscription to the News, talked some time concerning the school in general, but not a bit did he give that he was in Columbia to secure his marriage license. He got them, however, and the happy bride, was Miss Lou Frankum, a popular school teacher, this county, whose home was in the Glenview county. Notwithstanding the groom kept the happy event from our paper last week, we extend to him and his bride our very best wishes.

Too many people go to church merely to hear a good sermon or fine music or to see people and be seen. And so when there is likelihood of an indifferent sermon or poor music or no service at all, they stay away. The church-going habit is one to be cultivated, the same as the habit of attending to one's business or daily duties regardless of weather or anything else. Once acquired, the church-going habit goes quietly on minding character and determining destiny.

While the morals of Columbia are not considered very bad, yet in many respects they could be improved, and the young ladies could be the means of bringing about that improvement. They should raise their standard and demand of their male friends, who desire to show them attention, the same purity of character that the boys demand of them. If they would so resolute, and then stick to the sentiment, there would be less drinking and swearing, and good results would follow.

Miss Mary Snow Patterson, the little six year old daughter of Mrs. Belle Patterson, Jamestown, is quite a forist, and devotes much of her time, at this season of the year, to the cultivation of pot-flowers. Last week she sent a very handsome box, containing many varieties, to the News office. They were placed in water and preserved several days in remembrance of the bright little donor, who has been our steadfast friend since she was old enough to talk.

There is a great deal of tobacco in our county and many of the growers are of the very best quality. Solicitors, representing Louisville warehouses, asking that shipments be made to their respective firms, have been in the county. The newsmen of Burley is bringing good money and dark, smooth tobaccos are also in demand.

FRIENDSHIP.

Someone has said, that Friendship is a golden knot tied by the angel's hand.

Oh! there is much in that one word "Friendship." It underlies the principles of all true society: it is the foundation on which our government is built. It is the nucleus around which the family circle is formed, and it is the instigator of all true courtship. It is Friendship which causes two strong hearts to beat in unison, and terminate in the "greatest thing in the world," Love. It causes men and women to forsake dissension and hate to the ones they love; it is that which causes the mails to be freighted with millions of little missives sent to friends in foreign lands. It is the tender chord which binds human hearts together; at first it is thin and tender, but, like the giant oak, it grows with each kind word or deed, until the storms of life cannot overturn it. It grows with each kind word or deed, until it gets above the sorrows and disappointments of life.

When a person is on the road to honor and fortune, and the world smiles on him grandly it is then that he is surrounded by would be friends who wish him God's speed, and profess to be good true friends. But let that person be overtaken by adversity and the many would be friends soon forsake him, and he is left alone to get out as best he can, but a true friend will be a friend under all circumstances. A friend in need is a friend indeed.

Let us be a friend to everyone, not only those who are prospering and happy but those who are in need of friends. Let us say a kind word and do a kind deed whenever we have an opportunity, be true to every one and friendship will not be a delusion or a mere name, but it will be the principle which underlies all our lives, which causes us to "do unto others as we would that others should do unto us," and we can make the world bright and cheerful by these kind acts.

"Friendship blooms on earth and blossoms in Heaven." - Selected.

Rev. John Worrell, an able divine, commenced a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church last Sunday forenoon at 11 o'clock. Sunday night the church was filled to its utmost capacity and a very interesting service was delivered. The meeting will continue through the week, services at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 7 in the evening. All Christians are earnestly invited to cordially invited to assist in the meeting.

Judging from the size of a beet and a radish sent to this office, last week by Mrs. Belle Patterson, we conclude that the soil about Jamestown is somewhat adapted to vegetables. The best weighed fourteen pounds and the radish weighed about fourteen ounces. After the removal of these two specimens and a half dozen others of like dimensions, there was enough ground cleared for a large size onion patch.

Coffey Bros. of this place, sold their noted station, Kentucky Squirrel, to J. J. Thomas, of Watkins, Mo. Mr. Thomas is fortunate in securing this squirrel. He has prepared himself of the best breeders in this State. His reputation as a show horse was made in the best rings and at the best fairs in Kentucky. The only reason Coffey Bros. sold this horse is they have two younger ones to take his place.

Mr. A. Y. Ford, of Louisville, President of The Kentucky Exhibit Association, is very anxious that the enterprising citizens of Columbia perfect an organization for the purpose of raising funds to aid in a State exhibit at St. Louis World's Fair, 1904. One hundred thousand dollars is to be raised in Kentucky and it is hoped that every county will give something.

NEGRO RIGHTS COMPAIRED.

The right to live is greater than the right to vote. At least it is so everywhere except in Pennsylvania and Illinois. And we infer the exceptions from the press dispatches we printed yesterday from those States.

In Pennsylvania a coal company employed a corps of negro miners from the South to operate a mine that had been abandoned by striking white miners. It does not matter why the white miners struck and refused to go back into the mines. That is a matter between themselves and the operators. The essential fact is that a large number of colored miners who were hired to dig coal have been menaced and pursued by mobs until the military forces of the State have had to be called out to maintain the peace and protect the negro workmen with Gatling guns and bayonets. As a result they are to be discharged and sent away from the district and so deprived of the natural and American right to undertake the work ready to their hands and enjoy the fruits of their honest labor.

And this happens in the great Republican State of Pennsylvania, where the negro is so strenuously beloved and where the air rocks with denunciations of the Southern people for refusing to extend to the ignorant among them the privileges of the ballot. In the eyes of the Pennsylvania Republican every negro should cast his ballot freely, provided he cast it for the Republican party. Thousands of negro voters in Philadelphia constitute the solid Black Watch of the boodle Republican machine that curses that city. But when it comes to his right to work, the Republican brethren are not so prognathous and philanthropic. When he takes the job offered him in the coal mines he is threatened with murder and has to be guarded by the militia. He finds to his sorrow that Republicanism in its broadest and most unblushing display.

In Illinois the negroes about Eldorado had their industrial school broken up, were mobbed nightly, and yet are; hundreds have fled the place to save their lives and have had to sacrifice their hard-earned homes and farms. The people of Illinois who consented to the Tanner outrages at Verdun and Pana are consequent to the daily assaults upon the rights and persons of the negroes of Eldorado. Governor Yates has ordered a company of State troops to be quartered in the town for the winter try and preserve order and keep the remaining negroes from slaughter. And that is all blantly reported from the great Republican State of Illinois.

Surely the negro will one of these days get his eyes open to the duplicity of the party that has so long ridden him for its profit. These recurring incidents of the unwelcomeness of the negro in the north and of the determination that he shall not become a factor of its industrial system eventually warn the leaders of the race that northern republicanism is a snare and a delusion to their hopes of finding better things north of Mason and Dixon's line than south of it.

Here in the south no instance occurs of the necessity for the calling out of State troops to protect negroes who want to do honest work and earn a decent living. On the contrary, opportunities to work are abundantly held out to the negroes every day and there is not one of them in the south as we write who can not have work, wages and ample security for his industrial rights.

These strong contrasts between the treatment of the negro in the two sections must bear wholesome fruits later on. The negro is growing wise to the fact that he first started—that he is safer, happier and more a man where his right to work and live is guaranteed than where he is used solely as a tool by Republican politicians—Atlanta Constitution.

Are you planning for the Christmas presents? It is nearing the time for these interchanges of kindly feeling, and many dainty articles may be "home-made," if one begins in time. A few cents and skillful fingers can do marvels.

DAZED FOR A MOMENT.

"Will you allow me to ask you a question?" interrupted a man to the audience.

"Certainly, sir," said the spell-binder.

"You have been giving us a lot of figures about immigration, increase in wealth, the growth of trusts and all that," said the man; "let's see what you know about figures yourself. How do you find the greatest common divisor?"

Slowly and deliberately the orator took a drink of water.

Then he pointed his finger straight at the questioner. Lightning flashed in his eyes and he replied in a voice that made the gas jets quiver:

"Advertiser for it, you ignoramus!"

The audience cheered and yelled, and stamped, and the wrecked man that had asked the question sneaked out of the hall, a total wreck.

FEAR OF HELL DROVE HIM CRAZY.

Mr. Archer Harmon, of Danville, will be brought to this city to-day and will be placed in the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, located here. He was yesterday adjudged insane by Judge Prewitt and ordered brought here. He was yesterday surrounding Mr. Harmon's insanity as peculiar.

About five weeks ago, he came to the conclusion after brooding over the welfare of his soul brought on by zealous preaching of his pastor, that he was doomed to spend the hereafter in the depths of hell. The idea grew with him and he worrified over it.

From worrying over the awful fate that awaited him, he began to brood and finally became a raving maniac.

There was no one living in the house with him. He tore the sheets of his bed into shreds, demolished the furniture, dug out great patches of plaster from the walls with his fingers and finally became so violent that he had to be locked up and even tied. It was then when the family saw that there was no way of keeping him that the law was called in and he was adjudged insane and ordered brought to this city.—Lexington Democrat.

Rhode Island Democratic elected Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, one Congressman and thirty-six members of the lower branch of the Legislature.

Considerable opposition has developed against Gov. William J. Stone, of Missouri, who it was thought would succeed United States Senator Vest.

The President removed Julian H. Bingham as Revenue Collector in Alabama, because he was instrumental in excluding negroes from the recent convention in that State.

TRIBUTE TO WOMAN.

Bob Bardette pays the following tribute to woman: "True she cannot sharpen a pencil; outside of commercial circles, she can't tie a package to look like anything save crooked sections of shoes, but, land of miracles, see what she can do with a pin! She can't walk so many miles around a pool table with nothing to drink, but she can walk all night with a fretful baby. She can ride 500 miles without going into the smoking car to get rest and get away from the children. She can endure the distinction of the house full of children all day, while her husband sends them to bed before he has been home an hour. A boy with a sister is fortunate, a fellow with a cousin is so be envied; a young man with a sweetheart is happy, and a man with a good wife is blessed more than them all."

The trustees of the hamlet of North Bend, O., have passed an ordinance making the carrying of beer home through the streets in a gail subject to $50 fine without privilege of jury trial.
